

Privacy Policy

This policy is effective as of October 23, 2024.

This Privacy Policy applies to the information and data that The W.W. Williams Company, LLC (“Williams”) collects when you use our website.

For additional questions and details, please contact Williams at privacy@wwwilliams.com, (614) 228-5000, or at 400 Metro Place North, Suite 201, Dublin, Ohio 43017.

Summary

This policy applies to:

- Visitors to our website
- Customers

The purpose of this Privacy Policy is to let you know how we collect, use, store, share, retain, transfer and process your Personal Information. This policy also describes your choices and rights with respect to your Personal Information and how to exercise those rights. “Personal Information” is any information relating to an identified or identifiable individual.

We may amend this policy from time to time. We encourage you to review this policy periodically, as changes will be posted on this page. If we make any material changes to this policy we will provide a prominent notice. If you do not agree with this policy, you should not use our website, products or services.

What Personal Information We Collect

We collect various types of information depending on how you interact with us.

Personal Information you provide to us

If you fill out a form on our website that requires contact information such as signing up for a newsletter, submitting a request for information or products and services we will collect and process that information to provide you with the communication, products or services. These types of Personal Information may include your name, email address, company name, job title, your physical address, payment and billing information.

Personal Information collected when you visit our website

When you use our website, we may automatically collect Personal Information such as IP address, user - agent information (which is automatically sent by your web browser and may include device type) and information collected by cookies and other similar technologies.

Personal Information collected when you use our products or services

We may also collect payment and billing information when you register for the purchase of our products and services. For example, we may ask you to provide a billing address for your account and payment information. We use this information solely to process payments and deliver our products and services.

If we need sensitive personal information such as your social security number, government-issued identification information, or similar information for credit application purposes, we will only collect such information with your explicit consent.

Unless otherwise noted in this policy, we act as the “controller” of personal information that we collect and process.

How We Collect Information

We collect Personal Information from you when you visit our website or submit an informational form to us. Some of this information is provided by you and some is collected automatically. We collect Personal Information in the following ways: provided by you when you complete a web form or credit application, or automatically through applicable cookies.

We may collect personal information from other sources, such as third parties, for example Dun & Bradstreet.

How We Use Your Information

We process your personal information for the following purposes:

- To respond to your requests for information.
- To process any credit application or payment information.
- To contact you with updates about our services.
- To market and advertise our services, including sending marketing communications, with your consent.
- To analyze and improve our website and services.

The Legal Basis For Collecting and Processing Information

We use the following legal bases for collecting Personal Information:

- We may collect or process information with your consent, such as when you ask for information, or sign up for services.
- We may collect or process information we need to provide our services or fulfill a contractual obligation.
- We may collect or process information to fulfill a legal obligation.
- We may collect information when we have a legitimate interest to do so, such as for marketing, as long as our legitimate interests are not outweighed by your rights.

How We Share Information

We share Personal Information with our affiliates and partners, as needed to provide our services. We share Personal Information with service providers such as accountants, payment processing companies, and other vendors we use to operate our website.

Our vendors and service providers are not permitted to use your personal information for any other purpose than to provide contracted services, which may include Original Equipment Manufacturer (OEM) related customer surveys or customer satisfaction business reviews. Vendors are not provided your personal information with the intent for their own marketing, and are not allowed to share your information for marketing purposes.

We may share personal information in response to a legal summons or subpoena, or if required by law enforcement agencies.

How Long We Retain Your Information

How long we keep Personal Information that we have collected depends on the type of information and the purpose for which it was collected. After a reasonable period of time or the completion of the purpose for which it was collected, we will either delete or anonymize personal information.

We retain Personal Information where we have an ongoing legitimate business purpose to do so, for example to resolve disputes or to comply with ongoing legal obligations.

We retain your personal information for as long as it is needed to provide our services to you and to fulfill our legal obligations and for a reasonable period of time after such services are completed.

Cookies and Other Tracking Technologies

Cookies are small files stored on your web browser when you visit our website. Some cookies last only as long as you remain on the website; others, called “persistent cookies” may be stored for longer periods of time. These cookies can make browsing easier by storing your password or your preferences regarding how you use the website. Cookies collect information such as the IP address of your computer, your browser settings, and information about how you use the website. Your general location may be estimated from your IP address. Some cookies track users' activity on our website, apps, and services in order to deliver personalized advertising to you on this and other websites.

If you would like to opt out of cookies, you may change the settings on your web browser to reject or delete cookies. You may also find more information about cookies, including how to opt out of interest-based advertising, at www.cookiesandyou.com.

Your Rights Regarding Access to and Control over Personal Information

If you reside in the EU/EEA, you may have the following rights with regard to your personal information:

- Right of information and access - You have the right to access your Personal Information we have about you and to be provided with a copy of your Personal Information.
- Right to rectification - You have the right to correct or update your inaccurate or out of date Personal Information.

- Right to withdraw consent - If you have given us consent to collect or process your Personal Information, you may withdraw that consent at any time.
- The Right to Non-Discrimination - We may not discriminate against you if you exercise your privacy rights.

If you wish to exercise any of these rights please submit a request to privacy@wwilliams.com.

We may charge a reasonable fee if your request is not valid under applicable law, repetitive or excessive. We may also request additional information from you in order to verify your identity before processing your request.

Information for California Residents

The California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA) applies to information collected from California residents. Residents of California have the following rights with regard to their personal information:

- The Right to Know and Access Information
The categories of personal information we collect is described above in the section entitled “ The Information We Collect”. California residents may submit a verifiable request regarding the information collected, the types of sources from which personal Information is collected, the purposes for which information is collected, and the specific personal information collected about them.
- The Right to Have Personal Information Deleted
- The Right To Portability
California residents may request a copy of their personal information in a format that can be transferred to another person or entity.
- The Right to Non-Discrimination
We may not discriminate against you if you exercise your privacy rights.

You may be asked for more information in order for us to verify your identity when you make a request. You may exercise your rights by calling (614) 228-5000 or sending a message through <https://www.wwwilliams.com/contact/> or to privacy@wwwilliams.com.

We do not sell Personal Information to third parties (pursuant to California Civil Code Sections 1798.100-1798.99, also known as the California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018).

The sections above “What Personal Information We Collect” lists the categories of Personal Information we have collected in the preceding 12 months.

We do not sell sensitive Person Information to their parties. We retain personal information in accordance with the Section above: How Long We Retain Your Information.

International Data Transfers

We do not transfer personal information to a country or to an international organization outside of, possibly, our operations in Mexico.

Security

We take all reasonable steps to protect the information we receive from you from accidental or unlawful destruction, loss, alteration, and unauthorized disclosure or access. We have put in place appropriate physical, technical, and administrative measures to safeguard and secure your information, but no security measures are perfect; the risk of a data breach is possible.

Automated Decision Making and Profiling

We do not engage in automated decision making with regards to personal information collected from our website.

Children's Privacy

We do not knowingly collect or solicit personal information from children under age 13 without parental consent, unless permitted by law. If we become aware that we have collected personal information from children under the age of 13 without parental consent (or as permitted by law), we will delete it. If you believe that a child may have provided us with personal information without such parental consent, please contact us.

California consumers: We will not sell the information of California consumers who are 16 years old or younger unless we have prior parental authorization. If a California consumer is under the age of 13, a parent or guardian must consent to the sale of such minor's personal information. If the California consumer is between the ages of 13 and 16 years old, the minor may consent on an opt-in basis to the sale of their personal information. Our sites directed toward children will ask for age verification and will require appropriate consent.

EU residents: We do not collect or process personal information of data subjects in the EU under the age of 16 without explicit consent from a parent or guardian. Our sites directed toward children will ask for age verification and will require appropriate consent.

Sensitive Information

Unless specifically requested, we ask that you not send us, and you not disclose on or through our websites or otherwise to us sensitive personal information unless specifically requested by us or required by law.
